

CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY OF BANGLADESH

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE
PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF BANGLADESH

[PASSED BY THE CONSTITUENT ASSEMBLY OF BANGLADESH
ON THE 4TH NOVEMBER 1972]

(AUTHORISED ENGLISH TRANSLATION)

PREAMBLE

We, the people of Bangladesh, having proclaimed our Independence on the 26th day of March 1971 and, through a historic struggle for national liberation, established the independent, sovereign People's Republic of Bangladesh;

Pledging that the high ideals of nationalism, socialism, democracy and secularism, which inspired our heroic people to dedicate themselves to, and our brave martyrs to sacrifice their lives in, the national liberation struggle, shall be the fundamental principles of the Constitution;

Further pledging that it shall be a fundamental aim of the State to realise through the democratic process a socialist society, free from exploitation—a society in which the rule of law, fundamental human rights and freedom, equality and justice, political, economic and social, will be secured for all citizens;

Affirming that it is our sacred duty to safeguard, protect and defend this Constitution and to maintain its supremacy as the embodiment of the will of the people of Bangladesh so that we may prosper in freedom and may make our full contribution towards international peace and co-operation in keeping with the progressive aspirations of mankind;

In our Constituent Assembly, this eighteenth day of Kartick 1379 B.S., corresponding to the fourth day of November 1972 A.D., do hereby adopt, enact and give to ourselves this Constitution.

PART I
THE REPUBLIC

1. Bangladesh is a unitary, independent, sovereign republic to be known as the People's Republic of Bangladesh.

The Republic.

2. The territory of the Republic shall comprise—

The territory of the Republic.

(a) the territories which immediately before the proclamation of independence on the 26th day of March 1971 constituted East Pakistan; and

(b) such other territories as may become included in Bangladesh.

3. The state language of the Republic is Bengali.

The state language.

4. (1) The national anthem of the Republic is the first ten lines of "Amar Sonar Bangla".

National anthem, flag and emblem.

(2) The national flag of the Republic shall consist of a circle, coloured red throughout its area, resting on a green background.

(3) The national emblem of the Republic is the national flower Shapla (Nymphaea nouchali) resting on water, having on each side an ear of paddy and being surmounted by three connected leaves of jute with two stars on each side of the leaves.

(4) Subject to the foregoing clauses, provisions relating to the national anthem, flag and emblem shall be made by law.

5. (1) The capital of the Republic is Dacca.

The capital.

(2) The boundaries of the capital shall be determined by law.

6. Citizenship of Bangladesh shall be determined and regulated by law; citizens of Bangladesh shall be known as Bangalees.

Citizenship.

Supremacy of the Constitution.

7. (1) All powers in the Republic belong to the people, and their exercise on behalf of the people shall be effected only under, and by the authority of, this Constitution.

(2) This Constitution is, as the solemn expression of the will of the people, the supreme law of the Republic, and if any other law is inconsistent with this Constitution that other law shall, to the extent of the inconsistency, be void.

PART II

FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF STATE POLICY

8. (1) The principles of nationalism, socialism, democracy and secularism, together with the principles derived from them as set out in this Part, shall constitute the fundamental principles of state policy.

Fundamental principles.

(2) The principles set out in this Part shall be fundamental to the governance of Bangladesh, shall be applied by the State in the making of laws, shall be a guide to the interpretation of the Constitution and of the other laws of Bangladesh, and shall form the basis of the work of the State and of its citizens, but shall not be judicially enforceable.

9. The unity and solidarity of the Bangalee nation, which, deriving its identity from its language and culture, attained sovereign and independent Bangladesh through a united and determined struggle in the war of independence, shall be the basis of Bangalee nationalism.

Nationalism.

10. A socialist economic system shall be established with a view to ensuring the attainment of a just and egalitarian society, free from the exploitation of man by man.

Socialism and freedom from exploitation.

11. The Republic shall be a democracy in which fundamental human rights and freedoms and respect for the dignity and worth of the human person shall be guaranteed, and in which effective participation by the people through their elected representatives in administration at all levels shall be ensured.

Democracy and human rights.

12. The principle of secularism shall be realised by the elimination of—

Secularism and freedom of religion.

- (a) communalism in all its forms;
- (b) the granting by the State of political status in favour of any religion;
- (c) the abuse of religion for political purposes;
- (d) any discrimination against, or persecution of, persons practising a particular religion.

Principles of ownership.

13. The people shall own or control the instruments and means of production and distribution, and with this end in view ownership shall assume the following forms—

- (a) state ownership, that is ownership by the State on behalf of the people through the creation of an efficient and dynamic nationalised public sector embracing the key sectors of the economy;
- (b) co-operative ownership, that is ownership by co-operatives on behalf of their members within such limits as may be prescribed by law; and
- (c) private ownership, that is ownership by individuals within such limits as may be prescribed by law.

Emancipation of peasants and workers.

14. It shall be a fundamental responsibility of the State to emancipate the toiling masses—the peasants and workers—and backward sections of the people from all forms of exploitation.

Provision of basic necessities.

15. It shall be a fundamental responsibility of the State to attain, through planned economic growth, a constant increase of productive forces and a steady improvement in the material and cultural standard of living of the people, with a view to securing to its citizens—

- (a) the provision of the basic necessities of life, including food, clothing, shelter, education and medical care;
- (b) the right to work, that is the right to guaranteed employment at a reasonable wage having regard to the quantity and quality of work;
- (c) the right to reasonable rest, recreation and leisure; and
- (d) the right to social security, that is to say to public assistance in cases of undeserved want arising from unemployment, illness or disablement, or suffered by widows or orphans or in old age, or in other such cases.

16. The State shall adopt effective measures to bring about a radical transformation in the rural areas through the promotion of an agricultural revolution, the provision of rural electrification, the development of cottage and other industries, and the improvement of education, communications and public health, in those areas, so as progressively to remove the disparity in the standards of living between the urban and the rural areas.

Rural development and agricultural revolution.

17. The State shall adopt effective measures for the purpose of—

Free and compulsory education.

- (a) establishing a uniform, mass-oriented and universal system of education and extending free and compulsory education to all children to such stage as may be determined by law;
- (b) relating education to the needs of society and producing properly trained and motivated citizens to serve those needs;
- (c) removing illiteracy within such time as may be determined by law.

18. (1) The State shall regard the raising of the level of nutrition and the improvement of public health as among its primary duties, and in particular shall adopt effective measures to prevent the consumption, except for medical purposes or for such other purposes as may be prescribed by law, of alcoholic and other intoxicating drinks and of drugs which are injurious to health.

Public health and morality.

(2) The State shall adopt effective measures to prevent prostitution and gambling.

19. (1) The State shall endeavour to ensure equality of opportunity to all citizens.

Equality of opportunity.

(2) The State shall adopt effective measures to remove social and economic inequality between man and man and to ensure the equitable distribution of wealth among citizens, and of opportunities in order to attain a uniform level of economic development throughout the Republic.

Work as a right and duty.

20. (1) Work is a right, a duty and a matter of honour for every citizen who is capable of working, and everyone shall be paid for his work on the basis of the principle "from each according to his abilities, to each according to his work".

(2) The State shall endeavour to create conditions in which, as a general principle, persons shall not be able to enjoy unearned incomes, and in which human labour in every form, intellectual and physical, shall become a fuller expression of creative endeavour and of the human personality.

Duties of citizens and of public servants.

21. (1) It is the duty of every citizen to observe the Constitution and the laws, to maintain discipline, to perform public duties and to protect public property.

(2) Every person in the service of the Republic has a duty to strive at all times to serve the people.

Separation of judiciary from the executive.

22. The State shall ensure the separation of the judiciary from the executive organs of the State.

National culture.

23. The State shall adopt measures to conserve the cultural traditions and heritage of the people, and so to foster and improve the national language, literature and the arts that all sections of the people are afforded the opportunity to contribute towards and to participate in the enrichment of the national culture.

National monuments,
etc.

24. The State shall adopt measures for the protection against disfigurement, damage or removal of all monuments, objects or places of special artistic or historic importance or interest.

Promotion of international security and solidarity.

25. The State shall base its international relations on the principles of respect for national sovereignty and equality, non-interference in the internal affairs of other countries, peaceful settlement of international disputes, and respect for international law and the principles enunciated in the United Nations Charter, and on the basis of those principles shall—

(a) strive for the renunciation of the use of force in international relations and for general and complete disarmament;

- (b) uphold the right of every people freely to determine and build up its own social, economic and political system by ways and means of its own free choice; and
- (c) support oppressed peoples throughout the world waging a just struggle against imperialism, colonialism or racialism.

PART III

FUNDAMENTAL RIGHTS

Laws inconsistent with fundamental rights to be void.

26. (1) All existing law inconsistent with the provisions of this Part shall, to the extent of such inconsistency, become void on the commencement of this Constitution.

(2) The State shall not make any law inconsistent with any provisions of this Part, and any law so made shall, to the extent of such inconsistency, be void.

Equality before law.

27. All citizens are equal before law and are entitled to equal protection of law.

Discrimination on grounds of religion,
etc.

28. (1) The State shall not discriminate against any citizen on grounds only of religion, race, caste, sex or place of birth.

(2) Women shall have equal rights with men in all spheres of the State and of public life.

(3) No citizen shall, on grounds only of religion, race, caste, sex or place of birth be subjected to any disability, liability, restriction or condition with regard to access to any place of public entertainment or resort, or admission to any educational institution.

(4) Nothing in this article shall prevent the State from making special provision in favour of women or children or for the advancement of any backward section of citizens.

Equality of opportunity in public employment.

29. (1) There shall be equality of opportunity for all citizens in respect of employment or office in the service of the Republic.

(2) No citizen shall, on grounds only of religion, race, caste, sex or place of birth, be ineligible for, or discriminated against in respect of, any employment or office in the service of the Republic.

(3) Nothing in this article shall prevent the State from—

(a) making special provision in favour of any backward section of citizens for the purpose of securing their adequate representation in the service of the Republic;

- (b) giving effect to any law which makes provision for reserving appointments relating to any religious or denominational institution to persons of that religion or denomination;
- (c) reserving for members of one sex any class of employment or office on the ground that it is considered by its nature to be unsuited to members of the opposite sex.

30. (1) No title, honour or decoration shall be conferred by the State.

Abolition of titles, honours and decorations.

(2) No citizen shall, without the prior approval of the President, accept any title, honour, award or decoration from any foreign state.

(3) Nothing in this article shall prevent the State from making awards for gallantry or from conferring academic distinctions.

31. To enjoy the protection of the law, and to be treated in accordance with law, and only in accordance with law, is the inalienable right of every citizen, wherever he may be, and of every other person for the time being within Bangladesh, and in particular no action detrimental to the life, liberty, body, reputation or property of any person shall be taken except in accordance with law.

Right to protection of law.

32. No person shall be deprived of life or personal liberty save in accordance with law.

Protection of right to life and personal liberty.

33. (1) A person who is arrested shall not be detained in custody unless he has been informed of the grounds of his arrest, nor shall he be denied the right to consult and be defended by a legal practitioner of his choice.

Safeguards as to arrest or detention.

(2) Every person who is arrested and detained in custody shall be brought before a court within twenty-four hours of his arrest (excluding the time required to transport him to the court), and shall not be further detained save by order of the court.

(3) Nothing in the foregoing clauses shall apply to an enemy alien.

Prohibition of forced labour.

34. (1) All forms of forced labour are prohibited and any contravention of this provision shall be an offence punishable in accordance with law.

(2) Nothing in this article shall apply to compulsory labour—

(a) by persons undergoing lawful punishment for a criminal offence; or

(b) required by any law for public purposes.

Protection in respect of trial and punishment.

35. (1) No person shall be convicted of any offence except for violation of a law in force at the time of the commission of the act charged as an offence, nor be subjected to a penalty greater than, or different from, that which might have been inflicted under the law in force at the time of the commission of the offence.

(2) No person shall be prosecuted and punished for the same offence more than once.

(3) Every person accused of a criminal offence shall have the right to a speedy and public trial by an independent and impartial court or tribunal established by law.

(4) No person accused of any offence shall be compelled to be a witness against himself.

(5) No person shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading punishment or treatment.

(6) Nothing in clause (3) or clause (5) shall affect the operation of any existing law which prescribes any punishment or procedure for trial.

Freedom of movement.

36. Subject to any reasonable restrictions imposed by law in the public interest, every citizen shall have the right to move freely throughout Bangladesh, to reside and settle in any place therein and to leave and re-enter Bangladesh.

Freedom of assembly.

37. Every citizen shall have the right to assemble and to participate in public meetings and processions peacefully and without arms, subject to any reasonable restrictions imposed by law in the interests of public order or public health.

38. Every citizen shall have the right to form associations or unions, subject to any reasonable restrictions imposed by law in the interests of morality or public order:

Freedom of association.

Provided that no person shall have the right to form, or be a member or otherwise take part in the activities of, any communal or other association or union which in the name or on the basis of any religion has for its object, or pursues, a political purpose.

39. (1) Freedom of thought and conscience is guaranteed.

Freedom of thought and conscience, and of speech.

(2) Subject to any reasonable restrictions imposed by law in the interests of the security of the State, friendly relations with foreign states, public order, decency or morality, or in relation to contempt of court, defamation or incitement to an offence—

(a) the right of every citizen to freedom of speech and expression; and

(b) freedom of the press, are guaranteed.

40. Subject to any restrictions imposed by law, every citizen possessing such qualifications, if any, as may be prescribed by law in relation to his profession, occupation, trade or business shall have the right to enter upon any lawful profession or occupation, and to conduct any lawful trade or business.

Freedom of profession or occupation.

41. (1) Subject to law, public order and morality—

Freedom of religion.

(a) every citizen has the right to profess, practise or propagate any religion;

(b) every religious community or denomination has the right to establish, maintain and manage its religious institutions.

(2) No person attending any educational institution shall be required to receive religious instruction, or to take part in or to attend any religious ceremony or worship, if that instruction, ceremony or worship relates to a religion other than his own.

Rights to property.

42. (1) Subject to any restrictions imposed by law, every citizen shall have the right to acquire, hold, transfer or otherwise dispose of property, and no property shall be compulsorily acquired, nationalised or requisitioned save by authority of law.

(2) A law made under clause (1) shall provide for the acquisition, nationalisation or requisition with or without compensation, and in a case where it provides for compensation shall fix the amount or specify the principles on which, and the manner in which, the compensation is to be assessed and paid; but no such law shall be called in question in any court on the ground that it does not provide for compensation or that any provision in respect of such compensation is not adequate.

Protection of home and correspondence.

43. Every citizen shall have the right, subject to any reasonable restrictions imposed by law in the interests of the security of the State, public order, public morality or public health—

(a) to be secure in his home against entry, search and seizure; and

(b) to the privacy of his correspondence and other means of communication.

Enforcement of fundamental rights.

44. (1) The right to move the Supreme Court, in accordance with clause (1) of article 102, for the enforcement of the rights conferred by this Part, is guaranteed.

(2) Without prejudice to the powers of the Supreme Court under article 102, Parliament may by law empower any other court, within the local limits of its jurisdiction, to exercise all or any of those powers.

Modification of rights in respect of disciplinary law.

45. Nothing in this Part shall apply to any provision of a disciplinary law relating to members of a disciplined force, being a provision limited to the purpose of ensuring the proper discharge of their duties or the maintenance of discipline in that force.

Power to provide indemnity.

46. Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing provisions of this Part, Parliament may by law make provision for indemnifying any person in the service of the Republic or any other person in respect of any act done by him in connection with the national liberation struggle or the maintenance or restoration of order in any area in Bangladesh or validate any sentence passed, punishment inflicted, forfeiture ordered, or other act done in any such area.

47. (1) No law providing for any of the following matters shall be deemed to be void on the ground that it is inconsistent with, or takes away or abridges, any of the rights guaranteed by this Part—

Saving for certain laws.

- (a) the compulsory acquisition, nationalisation or requisition of any property, or the control or management thereof whether temporarily or permanently;
- (b) the compulsory amalgamation of bodies carrying on commercial or other undertakings;
- (c) the extinction, modification, restriction or regulation of rights of directors, managers, agents and officers of any such bodies, or of the voting rights of persons owning shares or stock (in whatever form) therein;
- (d) the extinction, modification, restriction or regulation of rights to search for or win minerals or mineral oil;
- (e) the carrying on by the Government or by a corporation owned, controlled or managed by the Government, of any trade, business, industry or service to the exclusion, complete or partial, of other persons; or
- (f) the extinction, modification, restriction or regulation of any right to property, any right in respect of a profession, occupation, trade or business or the rights of employers or employees in any statutory public authority or in any commercial or industrial undertaking;

if Parliament in such law (including, in the case of existing law, by amendment) expressly declares that such provision is made to give effect to any of the fundamental principles of state policy set out in Part II of this Constitution.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Constitution the laws specified in the First Schedule (including any amendment of any such law) shall continue to have full force and effect, and no provision of any such law, nor anything done or omitted to be done under the authority of such law, shall be deemed void or unlawful on the ground of inconsistency with, or repugnance to, any provision of this Constitution:

Provided that nothing in this article shall prevent the modification or repeal of any such law or provision by Act of Parliament, but no Bill for such an Act, if it contains provision for or has the effect of divesting the State of any property, or of enhancing any compensation payable by the State, shall be presented to the President for assent unless it is passed by the votes of not less than two-thirds of the total number of members of Parliament.

PART IV

THE EXECUTIVE

CHAPTER I—THE PRESIDENT

48. (1) There shall be a President of Bangladesh who shall be elected by members of Parliament in accordance with the provisions contained in the Second Schedule.

The President.

(2) The President shall, as Head of State, take precedence over all other persons in the State, and shall exercise the powers and perform the duties conferred and imposed on him by this Constitution and by any other law.

(3) In the exercise of all his functions, save only that of appointing the Prime Minister pursuant to clause (3) of article 56, the President shall act in accordance with the advice of the Prime Minister:

Provided that the question whether any, and if so what, advice has been tendered by the Prime Minister to the President shall not be enquired into in any court.

(4) A person shall not be qualified for election as President if he—

- (a) is less than thirty-five years of age; or
- (b) is not qualified for election as a member of Parliament; or
- (c) has been removed from the office of President by impeachment under this Constitution.

(5) The Prime Minister shall keep the President informed on matters of domestic and foreign policy, and submit for the consideration of the Cabinet any matter which the President may request him to refer to it.

49. The President shall have power to grant pardons, reprieves and respites and to remit, suspend or commute any sentence passed by any court, tribunal or other authority.

Prerogative of mercy.

Term of office of President.

50. (1) Subject to the provisions of this Constitution the President shall hold office for a term of five years from the date on which he enters upon his office :

Provided that notwithstanding the expiration of his term the President shall continue to hold office until his successor enters upon office.

(2) No person shall hold office as President for more than two terms, whether or not the terms are consecutive.

(3) The President may resign his office by writing under his hand addressed to the Speaker.

(4) The President during his term of office shall not be qualified for election as a member of Parliament, and if a member of Parliament is elected as President he shall vacate his seat in Parliament on the day on which he enters upon his office as President.

President's immunity.

51. (1) Without prejudice to the provisions of article 52, the President shall not be answerable in any court for anything done or omitted by him in the exercise or purported exercise of the functions of his office, but this clause shall not prejudice the right of any person to take proceedings against the Government.

(2) During his term of office no criminal proceedings whatsoever shall be instituted or continued against the President in, and no process for his arrest or imprisonment shall issue from, any court.

Impeachment of the President.

52. (1) The President may be impeached on a charge of violating this Constitution or of grave misconduct, preferred by a notice of motion signed by a majority of the total number of members of Parliament and delivered to the Speaker, setting out the particulars of the charge, and the motion shall not be debated earlier than fourteen nor later than thirty days after the notice is so delivered; and the Speaker shall forthwith summon Parliament if it is not in session.

(2) The conduct of the President may be referred by Parliament to any court, tribunal or body appointed or designated by Parliament for the investigation of a charge under this article.

(3) The President shall have the right to appear and to be represented during the consideration of the charge.

(4) If after the consideration of the charge a resolution is passed by Parliament by the votes of not less than two-thirds of the total number of members declaring that the charge has been substantiated, the President shall vacate his office on the date on which the resolution is passed.

(5) Where the Speaker is exercising the functions of the President under article 54 the provisions of this article shall apply subject to the modifications that the reference to the Speaker in clause (1) shall be construed as a reference to the Deputy Speaker, and that the reference in clause (4) to the vacation by the President of his office shall be construed as a reference to the vacation by the Speaker of his office as Speaker; and on the passing of a resolution such as is referred to in clause (4) the Speaker shall cease to exercise the functions of President.

53. (1) The President may be removed from office on the ground of physical or mental incapacity on a motion of which notice, signed by a majority of the total number of members of Parliament, is delivered to the Speaker, setting out particulars of the alleged incapacity.

Removal of President on ground of incapacity.

(2) On receipt of the notice the Speaker shall forthwith summon Parliament if it is not in session and shall call for a resolution constituting a medical board (hereafter in this article called "the Board"), and upon the necessary motion being made and carried shall forthwith cause a copy of the notice to be transmitted to the President together with a request signed by the Speaker that the President submit himself within a period of ten days from the date of the request to an examination by the Board.

(3) The motion for removal shall not be put to the vote earlier than fourteen nor later than thirty days after notice of the motion is delivered to the Speaker, and if it is again necessary to summon Parliament in order to enable the motion to be made within that period, the Speaker shall summon Parliament.

(4) The President shall have the right to appear and to be represented during the consideration of the motion.

(5) If the President has not submitted himself to an examination by the Board before the motion is made in Parliament, the motion may be put to the vote, and if it is passed by the votes of not less than two-thirds of the total number of members of Parliament, the President shall vacate his office on the date on which the motion is passed.

(6) If before the motion for removal is made in Parliament the President has submitted himself to an examination by the Board, the motion shall not be put to the vote until the Board has been given an opportunity of reporting its opinion to Parliament.

(7) If after consideration by Parliament of the motion and of the report of the Board (which shall be submitted within seven days of the examination held pursuant to clause (2) and if not so submitted shall be dispensed with) the motion is passed by the votes of not less than two-thirds of the total number of members of Parliament, the President shall vacate his office on the date on which the resolution is passed.

Speaker to act as President during absence, etc.

54. If a vacancy occurs in the office of President or if the President is unable to discharge the functions of his office on account of absence, illness or any other cause, the Speaker shall discharge those functions until a President is elected or until the President resumes the functions of his office, as the case may be.

CHAPTER II—THE PRIME MINISTER AND THE CABINET

The Cabinet.

55. (1) There shall be a Cabinet for Bangladesh having the Prime Minister at its head and comprising also such other Ministers as the Prime Minister may from time to time designate.

(2) The executive power of the Republic shall, in accordance with this Constitution, be exercised by or on the authority of the Prime Minister.

(3) The Cabinet shall be collectively responsible to Parliament.

(4) All executive actions of the Government shall be expressed to be taken in the name of the President.

(5) The President shall by rules specify the manner in which orders and other instruments made in his name shall be attested or authenticated, and the validity of any order or instrument so attested or authenticated shall not be questioned in any court on the ground that it was not duly made or executed.

(6) The President shall make rules for the allocation and transaction of the business of the Government.

56. (1) There shall be a Prime Minister, and such other Ministers, Ministers of State and Deputy Ministers as may be determined by the Prime Minister.

Ministers.

(2) The appointments of the Prime Minister and other Ministers, and of the Ministers of State and Deputy Ministers, shall be made by the President:

Provided that, subject to clause (4), no person shall be eligible to be so appointed unless he is a member of Parliament.

(3) The President shall appoint as Prime Minister the member of Parliament who appears to him to command the support of the majority of the members of Parliament.

(4) A Minister who at the time of his appointment is not a member of Parliament shall, unless elected as a member of Parliament within a period of six months from the date of such appointment, cease to be a Minister.

(5) If occasion arises for making any appointment under clause (2) or clause (3) between a dissolution of Parliament and the next following general election of members of Parliament, the persons who were such members immediately before the dissolution shall be regarded for the purposes of this clause as continuing to be such members.

57. (1) The office of the Prime Minister shall become vacant—

Tenure of office of Prime Minister.

- (a) if he resigns from office at any time by placing his resignation in the hands of the President; or

(b) if he ceases to be a member of Parliament.

(2) If the Prime Minister ceases to retain the support of a majority of the members of Parliament he shall either resign his office or advise the President to dissolve Parliament, and if he so advises the President shall dissolve Parliament accordingly.

(3) Nothing in this article shall disqualify the Prime Minister for holding office until his successor has entered upon office.

Tenure of office of other Ministers.

58. (1) The office of a Minister other than the Prime Minister shall become vacant—

- (a) if he resigns from office by placing his resignation in the hands of the Prime Minister for submission to the President;
- (b) if he ceases to be a member of Parliament;
- (c) if the President, pursuant to the provisions of clause (2), so directs; or
- (d) as provided in clause (4).

(2) The Prime Minister may at any time request a Minister to resign, and if such Minister fails to comply with the request, may advise the President to terminate the appointment of such Minister.

(3) Nothing in sub-clauses (a), (b) and (d) of clause (1) shall disqualify a Minister for holding office during any period in which Parliament stands dissolved.

(4) If the Prime Minister resigns from or ceases to hold office each of the other Ministers shall be deemed also to have resigned from office but shall, subject to the provisions of this Chapter, continue to hold office until his successor has entered upon office.

(5) In this article "Minister" includes Minister of State and Deputy Minister.

CHAPTER III—LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Local government.

59. (1) Local government in every administrative unit of the Republic shall be entrusted to bodies, composed of persons elected in accordance with law.

(2) Every body such as is referred to in clause (1) shall, subject to this Constitution and any other law, perform within the appropriate administrative unit such functions as shall be prescribed by Act of Parliament, which may include functions relating to—

- (a) administration and the work of public officers;
- (b) the maintenance of public order;
- (c) the preparation and implementation of plans relating to public services and economic development.

60. For the purpose of giving full effect to the provisions of article 59 Parliament shall by law, confer powers on the local government bodies referred to in that article, including power to impose taxes for local purposes, to prepare their budgets and to maintain funds.

Powers of local government bodies.

CHAPTER IV—THE DEFENCE SERVICES

61. The supreme command of the defence services of Bangladesh shall vest in the President and the exercise thereof shall be regulated by law.

Supreme command.

62. (1) Parliament shall by law provide for regulating—

Recruitment, etc., of defence services.

- (a) the raising and maintaining of the defence services of Bangladesh and of their reserves;
- (b) the grant of commissions therein;
- (c) the appointment of chiefs of staff of the defence services, and their salaries and allowances; and
- (d) the discipline and other matters relating to those services and reserves.

(2) Until Parliament by law provides for the matters specified in clause (1) the President may, by order, provide for such of them as are not already subject to existing law.

War.

63. (1) War shall not be declared and the Republic shall not participate in any war except with the assent of Parliament.

(2) In case of actual or imminent invasion of Bangladesh by land, sea or air, the President may take whatever steps he considers necessary for the protection and defence of Bangladesh, and Parliament if not sitting shall be summoned forthwith.

(3) Nothing in this Constitution shall invalidate any law enacted by Parliament which is expressed to be for the purpose of securing the public safety and preservation of the State in time of war, invasion or armed rebellion.

CHAPTER V—THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL

The Attorney-General.

64. (1) The President shall appoint a person who is qualified to be appointed as a judge of the Supreme Court to be Attorney-General for Bangladesh.

(2) The Attorney-General shall perform such duties as may be assigned to him by the President.

(3) In the performance of his duties, the Attorney-General shall have the right of audience in all courts of Bangladesh.

(4) The Attorney-General shall hold office during the pleasure of the President, and shall receive such remuneration as the President may determine.

PART V
THE LEGISLATURE

CHAPTER I—PARLIAMENT

65. (1) There shall be a Parliament for Bangladesh (to be known as the House of the Nation) in which, subject to the provisions of this Constitution, shall be vested the legislative powers of the Republic:

Establishment of Parliament.

Provided that nothing in this clause shall prevent Parliament from delegating to any person or authority, by Act of Parliament, power to make orders, rules, regulations, byelaws or other instruments having legislative effect.

(2) Parliament shall consist of three hundred members to be elected in accordance with law from single territorial constituencies by direct election and, for so long as clause (3) is effective, the members provided for in that clause; the members shall be designated as Members of Parliament.

(3) Until the dissolution of Parliament occurring next after the expiration of the period of ten years from the commencement of this Constitution there shall be reserved fifteen seats exclusively for women members, who shall be elected according to law by the members aforesaid:

Provided that nothing in this clause shall prevent a woman from being elected to any of the seats provided for in clause (2).

(4) The seat of Parliament shall be in the capital.

66. (1) A person shall, subject to the provisions of clause (2), be qualified to be elected as, and to be, a member of Parliament if he is a citizen of Bangladesh and has attained the age of twenty-five years.

Qualifications and disqualifications for election to Parliament.

(2) A person shall be disqualified for election as, or for being, a member of Parliament who—

(a) is declared by a competent court to be of unsound mind;

(b) is an undischarged insolvent;

- (c) acquires the citizenship of, or affirms or acknowledges allegiance to, a foreign state;
- (d) has been, on conviction for a criminal offence involving moral turpitude, sentenced to imprisonment for a term of not less than two years, unless a period of five years has elapsed since his release;
- (e) has been convicted of any offence under the Bangladesh Collaborators (Special Tribunals) Order 1972;
- (f) holds any office of profit in the service of the Republic other than an office which is declared by law not to disqualify its holder; or
- (g) is disqualified for such election by or under any law.

(3) For the purposes of this article a person shall not be deemed to hold an office of profit in the service of the Republic by reason only that he is a Minister, Minister of State or Deputy Minister.

(4) If any dispute arises as to whether a member of Parliament has, after his election, become subject to any of the disqualifications mentioned in clause (2) or as to whether a member of Parliament should vacate his seat pursuant to article 70, the dispute shall be referred to the Election Commission to hear and determine it and the decision of the Commission on such reference shall be final.

(5) Parliament may, by law, make such provision as it deems necessary for empowering the Election Commission to give full effect to the provisions of clause (4).

Vacation of seats of members.

67. (1) A member of Parliament shall vacate his seat—

- (a) if he fails, within the period of ninety days from the date of the first meeting of Parliament after his election, to make and subscribe before Parliament the oath or affirmation prescribed for a member of Parliament in the Third Schedule:

Provided that the Speaker may, before the expiration of that period, for good cause extend it;

- (b) if he is absent from Parliament, without the leave of Parliament, for ninety consecutive sitting days;
- (c) upon a dissolution of Parliament;
- (d) if he has incurred a disqualification under clause (2) of article 66; or
- (e) in the circumstances specified in article 70.

(2) A member of Parliament may resign his seat by writing under his hand addressed to the Speaker, and the seat shall become vacant when the writing is received by the Speaker or, if the office of Speaker is vacant or the Speaker is for any reason unable to perform his functions, by the Deputy Speaker.

68. Members of Parliament shall be entitled to such salaries, allowances and privileges as may be determined by Act of Parliament or, until so determined, by order made by the President.

Salaries, etc.,
of members of Parliament.

69. If a person sits or votes as a member of Parliament before he makes or subscribes the oath or affirmation in accordance with this Constitution, or when he knows that he is not qualified or is disqualified for membership thereof, he shall be liable in respect of each day on which he so sits or votes to a penalty of one thousand takas to be recovered as a debt due to the Republic.

Penalty for member sitting or voting
before taking oath.

70. A person elected as a member of Parliament at an election at which he was nominated as a candidate by a political party shall vacate his seat if he—

Vacation of seat on resignation or voting against political party.

(a) resigns from that party; or

(b) votes in Parliament against that party;

but shall not thereby be disqualified for subsequent election as a member of Parliament.

Bar against double membership.

71. (1) No person shall at the same time be a member of Parliament in respect of two or more constituencies.

(2) Nothing in clause (1) shall prevent a person from being at the same time a candidate for two or more constituencies, but in the event of his being elected for more than one—

- (a) within thirty days after his last election the person elected shall deliver to the Chief Election Commissioner a signed declaration specifying the constituency which he wishes to represent, and the seats of the other constituencies for which he was elected shall thereupon fall vacant;
- (b) if the person elected fails to comply with sub-clause (a), all the seats for which he was elected shall fall vacant; and
- (c) the person elected shall not make or subscribe the oath or affirmation of a member of Parliament until the foregoing provisions of this clause, so far as applicable, have been complied with.

Sessions of Parliament.

72. (1) Parliament shall be summoned, prorogued and dissolved by the President by public notification, and when summoning Parliament the President shall specify the time and place of the first meeting:

Provided that a period exceeding sixty days shall not intervene between the end of one session and the first sitting of Parliament in the next session.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of clause (1) Parliament shall be summoned to meet within thirty days after the declaration of the results of polling at any general election of members of Parliament.

(3) Unless sooner dissolved by the President, Parliament shall stand dissolved on the expiration of the period of five years from the date of its first meeting:

Provided that at any time when the Republic is engaged in war the period may be extended by Act of Parliament by not more than one year at a time but shall not be so extended beyond six months after the termination of the war.

(4) If after a dissolution and before the holding of the next general election of members of Parliament the President is satisfied that owing to the existence of a state of war in which the Republic is engaged it is necessary to recall Parliament, the President shall summon the Parliament that has been dissolved to meet.

(5) Subject to the provisions of clause (1) the sittings of Parliament shall be held at such times and places as Parliament may, by its rules of procedure or otherwise, determine.

73. (1) The President may address Parliament and may send messages thereto.

President's address and messages to Parliament.

(2) At the commencement of the first session after a general election of members of Parliament and at the commencement of the first session of each year the President shall address Parliament.

(3) Parliament shall, after the presentation of an address by the President, or the receipt of a message from him, discuss the matters referred to in such address or message.

74. (1) Parliament shall at the first sitting after any general election elect from among its members a Speaker and a Deputy Speaker, and if either office becomes vacant shall within seven days or, if Parliament is not then sitting, at its first meeting thereafter, elect one of its members to fill the vacancy.

Speaker and Deputy Speaker.

(2) The Speaker or Deputy Speaker shall vacate his office—

- (a) if he ceases to be a member of Parliament;
- (b) if he becomes a Minister;
- (c) if Parliament passes a resolution (after not less than fourteen days' notice has been given of the intention to move the resolution) supported by the votes of a majority of all the members thereof, requiring his removal from office;
- (d) if he resigns his office by writing under his hand delivered to the President;

- (e) if after a general election another member enters upon that office; or
- (f) in the case of the Deputy Speaker, if he enters upon the office of Speaker.

(3) While the office of the Speaker is vacant or the Speaker is exercising the functions of the President, or if it is determined by Parliament that the Speaker is otherwise unable to perform the functions of his office, those functions shall be performed by the Deputy Speaker or, if the office of the Deputy Speaker is vacant, by such member of Parliament as may be determined by or under the rules of procedure of Parliament; and during the absence of the Speaker from any sitting of Parliament the Deputy Speaker or, if he also is absent, such person as may be determined by or under the rules of procedure, shall act as Speaker.

(4) At any sitting of Parliament, while a resolution for the removal of the Speaker from his office is under consideration the Speaker (or while any resolution for the removal of the Deputy Speaker from his office is under consideration, the Deputy Speaker) shall not preside, and the provisions of clause (3) shall apply in relation to every such sitting as they apply in relation to a sitting from which the Speaker or, as the case may be, the Deputy Speaker is absent.

(5) The Speaker or the Deputy Speaker, as the case may be, shall have the right to speak in, and otherwise to take part in, the proceedings of Parliament while any resolution for his removal from office is under consideration in Parliament, and shall be entitled to vote but only as a member.

(6) Notwithstanding the provisions of clause (2) the Speaker or, as the case may be, the Deputy Speaker, shall be deemed to continue to hold office until his successor has entered upon office.

Rules of procedure,
quorum, etc.

75. (1) Subject to this Constitution—

- (a) the procedure of Parliament shall be regulated by rules of procedure made by it, and until such rules are made shall be regulated by rules of procedure made by the President;

- (b) a decision in Parliament shall be taken by a majority of the votes of the members present and voting, but the person presiding shall not vote except when there is an equality of votes, in which case he shall exercise a casting vote;
- (c) no proceeding in Parliament shall be invalid by reason only that there is a vacancy in the membership thereof or that a person who was not entitled to do so was present at, or voted or otherwise participated in, the proceeding.

(2) If at any time during which Parliament is in session the attention of the person presiding is drawn to the fact that the number of members present is less than sixty, he shall either suspend the meeting until at least sixty members are present, or adjourn it.

76. (1) At its first meeting in each session Parliament shall appoint from among its members the following standing committees, that is to say—

Standing committees of Parliament.

- (a) a public accounts committee;
- (b) a committee of privileges; and
- (c) such other standing committees as the rules of procedure of Parliament require.

(2) In addition to the committees referred to in clause (1), Parliament shall appoint other standing committees, and a committee so appointed may, subject to this Constitution and to any other law—

- (a) examine draft bills and other legislative proposals;
- (b) review the enforcement of laws and propose measures for such enforcement;
- (c) in relation to any matter referred to it by Parliament as a matter of public importance, investigate or inquire into the activities or administration of a Ministry and may require it to furnish, through an authorised representative, relevant information and to answer questions, orally or in writing;
- (d) perform any other function assigned to it by Parliament.

(3) Parliament may by law confer on committees appointed under this article powers for—

- (a) enforcing the attendance of witnesses and examining them on oath, affirmation or otherwise;
- (b) compelling the production of documents.

Ombudsman.

77. (1) Parliament may, by law, provide for the establishment of the office of Ombudsman.

(2) The Ombudsman shall exercise such powers and perform such functions as Parliament may, by law, determine, including the power to investigate any action taken by a Ministry, a public officer or a statutory public authority.

(3) The Ombudsman shall prepare an annual report concerning the discharge of his functions, and such report shall be laid before Parliament.

Privileges and immunities of Parliament and members.

78. (1) The validity of the proceedings in Parliament shall not be questioned in any court.

(2) A member or officer of Parliament in whom powers are vested for the regulation of procedure, the conduct of business or the maintenance of order in Parliament, shall not in relation to the exercise by him of any such powers be subject to the jurisdiction of any court.

(3) A member of Parliament shall not be liable to proceedings in any court in respect of anything said, or any vote given, by him in Parliament or in any committee thereof.

(4) A person shall not be liable to proceedings in any court in respect of the publication by or under the authority of Parliament of any report, paper, vote or proceeding.

(5) Subject to this article, the privileges of Parliament and of its committees and members may be determined by Act of Parliament.

Secretariat of Parliament.

79. (1) Parliament shall have its own secretariat.

(2) Parliament may, by law, regulate the recruitment and conditions of service of persons appointed to the secretariat of Parliament.

(3) Until provision is made by Parliament the President may, after consultation with the Speaker, make rules regulating the recruitment and conditions of service of persons appointed to the secretariat of Parliament, and rules so made shall have effect subject to the provisions of any law.

CHAPTER II—LEGISLATIVE AND FINANCIAL PROCEDURES

80. (1) Every proposal in Parliament for making a law shall be made in the form of a Bill.

Legislative procedure.

(2) When a Bill is passed by Parliament it shall be presented to the President for assent.

(3) The President, within fifteen days after a Bill is presented to him, shall assent to the Bill or, in the case of a Bill other than a Money Bill, may return it to Parliament with a message requesting that the Bill or any particular provisions thereof be reconsidered, and that any amendments specified by him in the message be considered; and if he fails so to do he shall be deemed to have assented to the Bill at the expiration of that period.

(4) If the President so returns the Bill Parliament shall consider it together with the President's message, and if the Bill is again passed by Parliament with or without amendments, it shall be presented to the President for his assent, whereupon the President shall assent to the Bill within the period of seven days after it has been presented to him, and if he fails to do so he shall be deemed to have assented to the Bill on the expiration of that period.

(5) When the President has assented or is deemed to have assented to a Bill passed by Parliament it shall become law and shall be called an Act of Parliament.

81. (1) In this Part "Money Bill" means a Bill containing only provisions dealing with all or any of the following matters—

Money Bills.

(a) the imposition, regulation, alteration, remission or repeal of any tax;

- (b) the borrowing of money or the giving of any guarantee by the Government, or the amendment of any law relating to the financial obligations of the Government;
- (c) the custody of the Consolidated Fund, the payment of money into, or the issue or appropriation of moneys from, that Fund;
- (d) the imposition of a charge upon the Consolidated Fund, or the alteration or abolition of any such charge;
- (e) the receipt of moneys on account of the Consolidated Fund or the Public Account of the Republic, or the custody or issue of such moneys, or the audit of the accounts of the Government;
- (f) any subordinate matter incidental to any of the matters specified in the foregoing sub-clauses.

(2) A Bill shall not be deemed to be a Money Bill by reason only that it provides for the imposition or alteration of any fine or other pecuniary penalty, or for the levy or payment of a licence fee or a fee or charge for any service rendered, or by reason only that it provides for the imposition, regulation, alteration, remission or repeal of any tax by a local authority or body for local purposes.

(3) Every Money Bill shall, when it is presented to the President for his assent, bear a certificate under the hand of the Speaker that it is a Money Bill, and such certificate shall be conclusive for all purposes and shall not be questioned in any court.

Recommendation for financial measures.

82. No Money Bill, nor any Bill which involves expenditure from public moneys, shall be introduced into Parliament except on the recommendation of the President:

Provided that no recommendation shall be required under this article for the moving of an amendment making provision for the reduction or abolition of any tax.

No taxation except by or under Act of Parliament.

83. No tax shall be levied or collected except by or under the authority of an Act of Parliament.

84. (1) All revenues received by the Government, all loans raised by the Government, and all moneys received by it in repayment of any loan, shall form part of one fund to be known as the Consolidated Fund.

Consolidated Fund and the Public
Account of the Republic.

(2) All other public moneys received by or on behalf of the Government shall be credited to the Public Account of the Republic.

85. The custody of public moneys, their payment into and the withdrawal from the Consolidated Fund or, as the case may be, the Public Account of the Republic, and matters connected with or ancillary to the matters aforesaid, shall be regulated by Act of Parliament, and until provision in that behalf is so made, by rules made by the President.

Regulation of public moneys.

86. All moneys received by or deposited with—

- (a) any person employed in the service of the Republic or in connection with the affairs of the Republic, other than revenues or moneys which by virtue of clause (1) of article 84 shall form part of the Consolidated Fund; or
- (b) any court to the credit of any cause, matter, account or persons,

Moneys payable to Public Account of Republic.

shall be paid into the Public Account of the Republic.

87. (1) There shall be laid before Parliament, in respect of each financial year, a statement of the estimated receipts and expenditure of the Government for that year, in this Part referred to as the annual financial statement.

Annual financial statement.

(2) The annual financial statement shall show separately—

- (a) the sums required to meet expenditure charged by or under this Constitution upon the Consolidated Fund; and
- (b) the sums required to meet other expenditure proposed to be made from the Consolidated Fund;

and shall distinguish expenditure on revenue account from other expenditure.

Charges on Consolidated Fund.

88. The following expenditure shall be charged upon the Consolidated Fund—

- (a) the remuneration payable to the President and other expenditure relating to his office;
- (b) the remuneration payable to—
 - (i) the Speaker and Deputy Speaker;
 - (ii) the Judges of the Supreme Court;
 - (iii) the Comptroller and Auditor-General;
 - (iv) the Election Commissioners;
 - (v) the members of the Public Service Commissions;
- (c) the administrative expenses of, including remuneration payable to, officers and servants of Parliament, the Supreme Court, the Comptroller and Auditor-General, the Election Commission and the Public Service Commissions;
- (d) all debt charges for which the Government is liable, including interest, sinking fund charges, the repayment or amortisation of capital, and other expenditure in connection with the raising of loans and the service and redemption of debt;
- (e) any sums required to satisfy a judgment, decree or award against the Republic by any court or tribunal; and
- (f) any other expenditure charged upon the Consolidated Fund by this Constitution or by Act of Parliament.

Procedure relating to annual financial statement.

89. (1) So much of the annual financial statement as relates to expenditure charged upon the Consolidated Fund may be discussed in, but shall not be submitted to the vote of, Parliament.

(2) So much of the annual financial statement as relates to other expenditure shall be submitted to Parliament in the form of demands for grants, and Parliament shall have power to assent to or to refuse to assent to any demand, or to assent to it subject to a reduction of the amount specified therein.

(3) No demand for a grant shall be made except on the recommendation of the President.

90. (1) As soon as may be after the grants under article 89 have been made by Parliament there shall be introduced in Parliament a Bill to provide for appropriation out of the Consolidated Fund of all moneys required to meet—

Appropriation Act.

- (a) the grants so made by Parliament; and
- (b) the expenditure charged on the Consolidated Fund but not exceeding in any case the amount shown in the annual financial statement laid before Parliament.

(2) No amendment shall be proposed in Parliament to any such Bill which has the effect of varying the amount of any grant so made or altering the purpose to which it is to be applied, or of varying the amount of any expenditure charged on the Consolidated Fund.

(3) Subject to the provisions of this Constitution no money shall be withdrawn from the Consolidated Fund except under appropriation made by law passed in accordance with the provisions of this article.

91. If in respect of any financial year it is found—

Supplementary and excess grants.

- (a) that the amount authorised to be expended for a particular service for the current financial year is insufficient or that a need has arisen for expenditure upon some new service not included in the annual financial statement for that year; or
- (b) that any money has been spent on a service during a financial year in excess of the amount granted for that service for that year;

the President shall have power to authorise expenditure from the Consolidated Fund whether or not it is charged by or under the Constitution upon that Fund and shall cause to be laid before Parliament a supplementary financial statement setting out the estimated amount of the expenditure or, as the case may be, an excess financial statement setting out the amount of the excess, and the provisions of articles 87 to 90 shall (with the necessary adaptations) apply in relation to those statements as they apply in relation to the annual financial statement.

Votes on account,
votes of credit, etc.

92. (1) Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing provisions of this Chapter, Parliament shall have power—

- (a) to make any grant in advance in respect of the estimated expenditure for a part of any financial year pending the completion of the procedure prescribed in article 89 for the voting of such grant and the passing of a law in accordance with the provisions of article 90 in relation to that expenditure;
- (b) to make a grant for meeting an unexpected demand upon the resources of the Republic when on account of the magnitude or the indefinite character of the service the demand cannot be specified with the details ordinarily given in an annual financial statement;
- (c) to make an exceptional grant which forms no part of the current service of any financial year;

and Parliament shall have power to authorise by law the withdrawal of moneys from the Consolidated Fund for the purposes for which such grants are made.

(2) The provisions of articles 89 and 90 shall have effect in relation to the making of any grant under clause (1), and to any law to be made under that clause, as they have effect in relation to the making of a grant with regard to any expenditure mentioned in the annual financial statement and to the law to be made for the authorisation of appropriation of moneys out of the Consolidated Fund to meet such expenditure.

CHAPTER III—ORDINANCE MAKING POWER

93. (1) At any time when Parliament is not in session, if the President is satisfied that circumstances exist which render immediate action necessary, he may make and promulgate such Ordinances as the circumstances appear to him to require, and any Ordinance so made shall, as from its promulgation have the like force of law as an Act of Parliament:

Ordinance making power.

Provided that no Ordinance under this clause shall make any provision—

- (i) which could not lawfully be made under this Constitution by Act of Parliament;
- (ii) for altering or repealing any provision of this Constitution; or
- (iii) continuing in force any provision of an Ordinance previously made.

(2) An Ordinance made under clause (1) shall be laid before Parliament at its first meeting following the promulgation of the Ordinance and shall, unless it is earlier repealed, cease to have effect at the expiration of thirty days after it is so laid or, if a resolution disapproving of the Ordinance is passed by Parliament before such expiration, upon the passing of the resolution.

(3) At any time when Parliament stands dissolved the President may, if he is satisfied that circumstances exist which render such action necessary, make and promulgate an Ordinance authorising expenditure from the Consolidated Fund, whether the expenditure is charged by the Constitution upon that fund or not, and any Ordinance so made shall, as from its promulgation, have the like force of law as an Act of Parliament.

(4) Every Ordinance promulgated under clause (3) shall be laid before Parliament as soon as may be, and the provisions of articles 87, 89 and 90 shall, with necessary adaptations, be complied with in respect thereof within thirty days of the reconstitution of Parliament.

PART VI

THE JUDICIARY

CHAPTER I—THE SUPREME COURT

Establishment of
Supreme Court.

94. (1) There shall be a Supreme Court for Bangladesh (to be known as the Supreme Court of Bangladesh) comprising the Appellate Division and the High Court Division.

(2) The Supreme Court shall consist of the Chief Justice, to be known as the Chief Justice of Bangladesh, and such number of other judges as the President may deem it necessary to appoint to each division.

(3) The Chief Justice, and the judges appointed to the Appellate Division, shall sit only in that division, and the other judges shall sit only in the High Court Division.

(4) Subject to the provisions of this Constitution the Chief Justice and the other judges shall be independent in the exercise of their judicial functions.

Appointment of judges.

95. (1) The Chief Justice shall be appointed by the President, and the other judges shall be appointed by the President after consultation with the Chief Justice.

(2) A person shall not be qualified for appointment as a judge unless he is a citizen of Bangladesh and—

(a) has for not less than ten years been an advocate of the Supreme Court; or

(b) has, for not less than ten years, held judicial office or been an advocate, in the territory of Bangladesh and has, for not less than three years, exercised the powers of a district judge.

(3) In this article "Supreme Court" includes a court which at any time before the commencement of this Constitution exercised jurisdiction as a High Court in the territory of Bangladesh.

96. (1) Subject to the provisions of this article a judge shall hold office until he attains the age of sixty-two years.

Tenure of office
of judges.

(2) A judge shall not be removed from his office except by an order of the President passed pursuant to a resolution of Parliament supported by a majority of not less than two-thirds of the total number of members of Parliament, on the ground of proved misbehaviour or incapacity.

(3) Parliament may by law regulate the procedure in relation to a resolution under clause (2) and for investigation and proof of the misbehaviour or incapacity of a judge.

(4) A judge may resign his office by writing under his hand addressed to the President.

97. If the office of the Chief Justice becomes vacant, or if the President is satisfied that the Chief Justice is, on account of absence, illness, or any other cause, unable to perform the functions of his office, those functions shall, until some other person has entered upon that office, or until the Chief Justice has resumed his duties, as the case may be, be performed by the next most senior judge of the Appellate Division.

Temporary
appointment of
Chief Justice.

98. Notwithstanding the provisions of article 94, if the President is satisfied, after consultation with the Chief Justice, that the number of the judges of a division of the Supreme Court should be for the time being increased, the President may appoint one or more duly qualified persons to be additional judges of that division for such period not exceeding two years as he may specify, or, if he thinks fit, may require a judge of the High Court Division to sit in the Appellate Division for any temporary period:

Additional Supreme Court judges.

Provided that nothing in this article shall prevent a person appointed as an additional judge from being appointed as a judge under article 95 or as an additional judge for a further period under this article.

99. A person who has held office as a judge (otherwise than as an additional judge pursuant to the provisions of article 98) shall not after his retirement or

Disabilities of judges after retirement.

removal therefrom plead or act before any court or authority, or be eligible for any appointment in the service of the Republic.

Seat of Supreme Court.

100. The permanent seat of the Supreme Court shall be in the capital, but sessions of the High Court Division may be held at such other place or places as the Chief Justice may, with the approval of the President, from time to time appoint.

Jurisdiction of High Court Division.

101. The High Court Division shall have such original, appellate and other jurisdictions and powers as are conferred on it by this Constitution or any other law.

Power of High Court Division in respect of enforcement of fundamental rights and to issue certain orders and directions, etc.

102. (1) The High Court Division, on the application of any person aggrieved, may give such directions or orders to any person or authority, including any person performing any function in connection with the affairs of the Republic, as may be appropriate for the enforcement of any of the fundamental rights conferred by Part III of this Constitution.

(2) The High Court Division may, if satisfied that no other equally efficacious remedy is provided by law—

(a) on the application of any person aggrieved, make an order—

(i) directing a person performing any functions in connection with the affairs of the Republic or of a local authority, to refrain from doing that which he is not permitted by law to do or to do that which he is required by law to do; or

(ii) declaring that any act done or proceeding taken by a person performing functions in connection with the affairs of the Republic or of a local authority has been done or taken without lawful authority, and is of no legal effect; or

(b) on the application of any person, make an order—

(i) directing that a person in custody be brought before it so that it may satisfy itself that he is not being held in custody without lawful authority or in an unlawful manner; or

- (ii) requiring a person holding or purporting to hold a public office to show under what authority he claims to hold that office.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing clauses the High Court Division shall have no power under this article to pass any order in relation to any law to which article 47 applies.

(4) Where on an application made under clause (1) or sub-clause (a) of clause (2), an interim order is prayed for and such interim order is likely to have the effect of—

- (a) prejudicing or interfering with any measure designed to implement any socialist programme, or any development work; or

(b) being otherwise harmful to the public interest, the High Court Division shall not make an interim order unless the Attorney-General has been given reasonable notice of the application and he (or an advocate authorised by him in that behalf) has been given an opportunity of being heard, and the High Court Division is satisfied that the interim order would not have the effect referred to in sub-clause (a) or sub-clause (b).

(5) In this article, unless the context otherwise requires, "person" includes a statutory public authority and any court or tribunal, other than a court or tribunal established under a law relating to the defence services of Bangladesh or a tribunal to which article 117 applies.

103. (1) The Appellate Division shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine appeals from judgments, decrees, orders or sentences of the High Court Division.

Jurisdiction of Appellate Division.

(2) An appeal to the Appellate Division from a judgment, decree, order or sentence of the High Court Division shall lie as of right where the High Court Division—

- (a) certifies that the case involves a substantial question of law as to the interpretation of this Constitution; or

- (b) has confirmed a sentence of death or sentenced a person to death or to transportation for life; or
- (c) has imposed punishment on a person for contempt of that division;

and in such other cases as may be provided for by Act of Parliament.

(3) An appeal to the Appellate Division from a judgment, decree, order or sentence of the High Court Division in a case to which clause (2) does not apply shall lie only if the Appellate Division grants leave to appeal.

(4) Parliament may by law declare that the provisions of this article shall apply in relation to any other court or tribunal as they apply in relation to the High Court Division.

Issue and execution of processes of
Appellate Division.

104. The Appellate Division shall have power to issue such directions, orders, decrees or writs as may be necessary for doing complete justice in any cause or matter pending before it, including orders for the purpose of securing the attendance of any person or the discovery or production of any document.

Review of judgments or orders by Appellate Division.

105. The Appellate Division shall have power, subject to the provisions of any Act of Parliament and of any rules made by that division, to review any judgment pronounced or order made by it.

Advisory jurisdiction of Supreme Court.

106. If at any time it appears to the President that a question of law has arisen, or is likely to arise, which is of such a nature and of such public importance that it is expedient to obtain the opinion of the Supreme Court upon it, he may refer the question to the Appellate Division for consideration and the division may, after such hearing as it thinks fit, report its opinion thereon to the President.

Rule-making power of Supreme Court.

107. (1) Subject to any law made by Parliament the Supreme Court may, with the approval of the President, make rules for regulating the practice and procedure of each division of the Supreme Court, and of any court subordinate to it.

(2) The Supreme Court may delegate any of its functions under clause (1) and articles 113, 115 and 116 to a division of that court or to one or more judges.

(3) Subject to any rules made under this article the Chief Justice shall determine which judges are to constitute any Bench of a division of the Supreme Court and which judges are to sit for any purpose.

(4) The Chief Justice may authorise the next most senior judge of either division of the Supreme Court to exercise in that division any of the powers conferred by clause (3) or by rules made under this article.

108. The Supreme Court shall be a court of record and shall have all the powers of such a court including the power subject to law to make an order for the investigation of or punishment for any contempt of itself.

Supreme Court as court of record.

109. The High Court Division shall have superintendence and control over all courts and tribunals subordinate to it.

Superintendence and control over courts.

110. If the High Court Division is satisfied that a case pending in a court subordinate to it involves a substantial question of law as to the interpretation of this Constitution, or on a point of general public importance, the determination of which is necessary for the disposal of the case, it shall withdraw the case from that court and may—

Transfer of cases from subordinate courts to High Court Division.

- (a) either dispose of the case itself; or
- (b) determine the question of law and return the case to the court from which it has been so withdrawn (or transfer it to another subordinate court) together with a copy of the judgment of the division on such question, and the court to which the case is so returned or transferred shall, on receipt thereof, proceed to dispose of the case in conformity with such judgment.

111. The law declared by the Appellate Division shall be binding on the High Court Division and the law declared by either division of the Supreme Court shall be binding on all courts subordinate to it.

Binding effect of
Supreme Court
judgments.

Action in aid of
Supreme Court.

112. All authorities, executive and judicial, in the Republic shall act in aid of the Supreme Court.

Staff of Supreme Court.

113. (1) Appointments to the staff of the Supreme Court shall be made by the Chief Justice or such other judge or officer of that court as he may direct, and shall be made in accordance with rules made with the previous approval of the President by the Supreme Court.

(2) Subject to the provisions of any Act of Parliament the conditions of service of members of the staff of the Supreme Court shall be such as may be prescribed by rules made by that court.

CHAPTER II—SUBORDINATE COURTS

Establishment of
subordinate courts.

114. There shall be in addition to the Supreme Court such courts subordinate thereto as may be established by law.

Appointments to subordinate courts.

115. (1) Appointments of persons to offices in the judicial service or as magistrates exercising judicial functions shall be made by the President—

(a) in the case of district judges, on the recommendation of the Supreme Court; and

(b) in the case of any other person, in accordance with rules made by the President in that behalf after consulting the appropriate public service commission and the Supreme Court.

(2) A person shall not be eligible for appointment as a district judge unless he—

(a) is at the time of his appointment in the service of the Republic and has, for not less than seven years, held judicial office in that service; or

(b) has for not less than ten years been an advocate.

Control and discipline of subordinate courts.

116. The control (including the power of posting, promotion and grant of leave) and discipline of persons employed in the judicial service and magistrates exercising judicial functions shall vest in the Supreme Court.

CHAPTER III—ADMINISTRATIVE TRIBUNALS

117. (1) Notwithstanding anything hereinbefore contained, Parliament may by law establish one or more administrative tribunals to exercise jurisdiction in respect of matters relating to or arising out of—

Administrative tribunals.

- (a) the terms and conditions of persons in the service of the Republic, including the matters provided for in Part IX and the award of penalties or punishments;
- (b) the acquisition, administration, management and disposal of any property vested in or managed by the Government by or under any law, including the operation and management of, and service in, any nationalised enterprise or statutory public authority;
- (c) any law to which clause (3) of article 102 applies.

(2) Where any administrative tribunal is established under this article, no court shall entertain any proceedings or make any order in respect of any matter falling within the jurisdiction of such tribunal:

Provided that Parliament may, by law, provide for appeals from, or the review of, decisions of any such tribunal.

(3) The Auditor-General may resign his office by writing under his hand addressed to the President.

(4) On ceasing to hold office the Auditor-General shall not be eligible for further office in the service of the Republic.

130. At any time when the office of Auditor-General is vacant, or the President is satisfied that the Auditor-General is unable to perform his functions on account of absence, illness or any other cause, the President may appoint a person to act as Auditor-General and to perform the functions of that office until an appointment is made under article 127 or, as the case may be, until the Auditor-General resumes the functions of his office.

Acting Auditor-General.

131. The public accounts of the Republic shall be kept in such form and in such manner as the Auditor-General may, with the approval of the President, prescribe.

Form and manner of keeping public accounts.

132. The reports of the Auditor-General relating to the public accounts of the Republic shall be submitted to the President, who shall cause them to be laid before Parliament.

Reports of Auditor-General to be laid before Parliament.

PART IX

THE SERVICES OF BANGLADESH

CHAPTER I—SERVICES

Appointment and conditions of service.

133. Subject to the provisions of this Constitution Parliament may by law regulate the appointment and conditions of service of persons in the service of the Republic:

Provided that it shall be competent for the President to make rules regulating the appointment and the conditions of service of such persons until provision in that behalf is made by or under any law, and rules so made shall have effect subject to the provisions of any such law.

Tenure of office.

134. Except as otherwise provided by this Constitution every person in the service of the Republic shall hold office during the pleasure of the President.

Dismissal, etc., of civilian public officers.

135. (1) No person who holds any civil post in the service of the Republic shall be dismissed or removed or reduced in rank by an authority subordinate to that by which he was appointed.

(2) No such person shall be dismissed or removed or reduced in rank until he has been given a reasonable opportunity of showing cause why that action should not be taken:

Provided that this clause shall not apply—

- (i) where a person is dismissed or removed or reduced in rank on the ground of conduct which has led to his conviction of a criminal offence; or
- (ii) where the authority empowered to dismiss or remove a person or to reduce him in rank is satisfied that, for a reason recorded by that authority in writing, it is not reasonably practicable to give that person an opportunity of showing cause; or

- (iii) where the President is satisfied that in the interests of the security of the State it is not expedient to give that person such an opportunity.

(3) If in respect of such a person the question arises whether it is reasonably practicable to give him an opportunity to show cause in accordance with clause (2), the decision thereon of the authority empowered to dismiss or remove such person or to reduce him in rank shall be final.

(4) Where a person is employed in the service of the Republic under a written contract and that contract is terminated by due notice in accordance with its terms, he shall not, by reason thereof, be regarded as removed from office for the purposes of this article.

136. Provision may be made by law for the reorganisation of the service of the Republic by the creation, amalgamation or unification of services and such law may vary or revoke any condition of service of a person employed in the service of the Republic.

Reorganisation of service.

CHAPTER II—PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSIONS

137. Provision shall be made by law for establishing one or more public service commissions for Bangladesh, each of which shall consist of a chairman and such other members as shall be prescribed by law.

Establishment of commissions.

138. (1) The chairman and other members of each public service commission shall be appointed by the President:

Appointment of members.

Provided that not less than one-half of the members of a commission shall be persons who have held office for twenty years or more in the service of any government which has at any time functioned within the territory of Bangladesh.

(2) Subject to any law made by Parliament the conditions of service of the chairman and other members of a public service commission shall be such as the President may, by order, determine.

Establishment of Election Commission.

PART VII

ELECTIONS

118. (1) There shall be an Election Commission for Bangladesh consisting of a Chief Election Commissioner and such number of other Election Commissioners, if any, as the President may from time to time direct, and the appointment of the Chief Election Commissioner and other Election Commissioners (if any) shall, subject to the provisions of any law made in that behalf, be made by the President.

(2) When the Election Commission consists of more than one person, the Chief Election Commissioner shall act as the chairman thereof.

(3) Subject to the provisions of this Constitution the term of office of an Election Commissioner shall be five years from the date on which he enters upon his office, and—

- (a) a person who has held office as Chief Election Commissioner shall not be eligible for appointment in the service of the Republic;
- (b) any other Election Commissioner shall, on ceasing to hold office as such, be eligible for appointment as Chief Election Commissioner but shall not be otherwise eligible for appointment in the service of the Republic.

(4) The Election Commission shall be independent in the exercise of its functions and subject only to this Constitution and any other law.

(5) Subject to the provisions of any law made by Parliament, the conditions of service of Election Commissioners shall be such as the President may, by order, determine:

Provided that an Election Commissioner shall not be removed from his office except in like manner and on the like grounds as a judge of the Supreme Court.

(6) An Election Commissioner may resign his office by writing under his hand addressed to the President.

119. (1) The superintendence, direction and control of the preparation of the electoral rolls for all elections to Parliament, the conduct of such elections and of elections to the office of President, shall vest in the Election Commission which shall, in accordance with this Constitution and any other law—

Functions of Election Commission.

- (a) hold elections to the office of President;
- (b) hold elections of members of Parliament; and
- (c) delimit the constituencies and prepare electoral rolls for the purpose of elections to Parliament.

(2) The Election Commission shall perform such functions, in addition to those specified in the foregoing clauses, as may be prescribed by this Constitution or by any other law.

120. The President shall, when so requested by the Election Commission, make available to it such staff as may be necessary for the discharge of its functions under this Part.

Staff of Election Commission.

121. There shall be one electoral roll for each constituency for the purposes of elections to Parliament, and no special electoral roll shall be prepared so as to classify electors according to religion, race, caste or sex.

Single electoral roll for each constituency.

122. (1) The elections to Parliament shall be on the basis of adult franchise.

Qualifications for registration as voter.

(2) A person shall be entitled to be enrolled on the electoral roll for a constituency delimited for the purpose of election to Parliament, if he—

- (a) is a citizen of Bangladesh;
- (b) is not less than eighteen years of age;
- (c) does not stand declared by a competent court to be of unsound mind;
- (d) is or is deemed by law to be a resident of that constituency; and
- (e) has not been convicted of any offence under the Bangladesh Collaborators (Special Tribunals) Order 1972.

Time for holding elections.

123. (1) In the case of a vacancy in the office of President occurring by reason of the expiration of his term of office an election to fill the vacancy shall be held within the period of ninety days prior to the date of expiration of the term:

Provided that if the term expires before the dissolution of the Parliament by the members of which he was elected the election to fill the vacancy shall not be held until after the next general election of members of Parliament, but shall be held within thirty days after the first sitting of Parliament following such general election.

(2) In the case of a vacancy in the office of President occurring by reason of the death, resignation or removal of the President, an election to fill the vacancy shall be held within the period of ninety days after the occurrence of the vacancy.

(3) A general election of members of Parliament shall be held—

(a) in the case of a dissolution by reason of the expiration of its term, within the period of ninety days preceding such dissolution; and

(b) in the case of a dissolution otherwise than by reason of such expiration, within ninety days after such dissolution:

Provided that the persons elected at a general election under sub-clause (a) shall not assume office as members of Parliament except after the expiration of the term referred to therein.

(4) An election to fill the seat of a member of Parliament which falls vacant otherwise than by reason of the dissolution of Parliament shall be held within ninety days of the occurrence of the vacancy.

Parliament may make provision as to elections.

124. Subject to the provisions of this Constitution, Parliament may by law make provision with respect to all matters relating to or in connection with elections to Parliament, including the delimitation of constituencies, the preparation of electoral rolls, the holding of elections, and all other matters necessary for securing the due constitution of Parliament.

125. Notwithstanding anything in this Constitution—

Validity of election law and elections.

- (a) the validity of any law relating to the delimitation of constituencies, or the allotment of seats to such constituencies, made or purporting to be made under article 124, shall not be called in question in any court;
- (b) no election to the office of President or to Parliament shall be called in question except by an election petition presented to such authority and in such manner as may be provided for by or under any law made by Parliament.

126. It shall be the duty of all executive authorities to assist the Election Commission in the discharge of its functions.

Executive authorities to assist Election Commission.

PART VIII

THE COMPTROLLER AND AUDITOR-GENERAL

office of
Auditor-General.

127. (1) There shall be a Comptroller and Auditor-General of Bangladesh (hereinafter referred to as the Auditor-General) who shall be appointed by the President.

(2) Subject to the provisions of this Constitution and of any law made by Parliament, the conditions of service of the Auditor-General shall be such as the President may, by order, determine.

Functions of
Auditor-General.

128. (1) The public accounts of the Republic and of all courts of law and all authorities and officers of the Government shall be audited and reported on by the Auditor-General and for that purpose he or any person authorised by him in that behalf shall have access to all records, books, vouchers, documents, cash, stamps, securities, stores or other government property in the possession of any person in the service of the Republic.

(2) Without prejudice to the provisions of clause (1), if it is prescribed by law in the case of any body corporate directly established by law, the accounts of that body corporate shall be audited and reported on by such person as may be so prescribed.

(3) Parliament may by law require the Auditor-General to exercise such functions, in addition to those specified in clause (1), as such law may prescribe, and until provision is made by law under this clause the President may, by order, make such provision.

(4) The Auditor-General, in the exercise of his functions under clause (1), shall not be subject to the direction or control of any other person or authority.

Term of office of
Auditor-General.

129. (1) The Auditor-General shall, subject to this article, hold office until he attains the age of sixty years.

(2) The Auditor-General shall not be removed from his office except in like manner and on the like grounds as a judge of the Supreme Court.

Term of office.

139. (1) The term of office of the chairman and other members of a public service commission shall, subject to the provisions of this article, expire five years after the date on which he entered upon his office, or when he attains the age of sixty-two years, whichever is earlier.

(2) The chairman and other members of such a commission shall not be removed from office except in like manner and on the like grounds as a judge of the Supreme Court.

(3) A chairman or other member of a public service commission may resign his office by writing under his hand addressed to the President.

(4) On ceasing to hold office a member of a public service commission shall not be eligible for further employment in the service of the Republic, but, subject to the provisions of clause (1)—

- (a) a chairman so ceasing shall be eligible for re-appointment for one further term, and
- (b) a member (other than the chairman) so ceasing shall be eligible for re-appointment for one further term or for appointment as chairman of a public service commission.

Functions of Commissions.

140. (1) The functions of a public service commission shall be—

- (a) to conduct tests and examinations for the selection of suitable persons for appointment to the service of the Republic;
- (b) to advise the President on any matter on which the commission is consulted under clause (2) or on any matter connected with its functions which is referred to the commission by the President; and
- (c) such other functions as may be prescribed by law.

(2) Subject to the provisions of any law made by Parliament, and any regulation (not inconsistent with such law) which may be made by the President after consultation with a commission, the President shall consult a commission with respect to—

- (a) matters relating to qualifications for, and methods of recruitment to, the service of the Republic;
- (b) the principles to be followed in making appointments to that service and promotions and transfers from one branch of the service to another, and the suitability of candidates for such appointments, promotions and transfers;
- (c) matters affecting the terms and conditions (including pension rights) of that service; and
- (d) the discipline of the service.

141. (1) Each commission shall, not later than the first day of March each year, prepare and submit to the President a report on the performance of its functions during the period ended on the previous 31st day of December.

Annual report.

(2) The report shall be accompanied by a memorandum setting out, so far as is known to the commission—

- (a) the cases, if any, in which its advice was not accepted and the reasons why it was not accepted;
- (b) the cases where the commission ought to have been consulted and was not consulted, and the reasons why it was not consulted.

(3) The President shall cause the report and memorandum to be laid before Parliament at its first meeting held after 31st March in the year in which the report was submitted.

PART X

AMENDMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION

Power to amend or repeal any provision of the Constitution.

142. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Constitution—

(a) any provision thereof may be amended or repealed by Act of Parliament:

Provided that—

(i) no Bill for such amendment or repeal shall be allowed to proceed unless the long title thereof expressly states that it will amend or repeal a provision of the Constitution;

(ii) no such Bill shall be presented to the President for assent unless it is passed by the votes of not less than two-thirds of the total number of members of Parliament;

(b) when a Bill passed as aforesaid is presented to the President for his assent he shall, within the period of seven days after the Bill is presented to him assent to the Bill, and if he fails so to do he shall be deemed to have assented to it on the expiration of that period.

PART XI

MISCELLANEOUS

143. (1) There shall vest in the Republic, in addition to any other land or property lawfully vested—

Property of the Republic.

- (a) all minerals and other things of value underlying any land of Bangladesh;
- (b) all lands, minerals and other things of value underlying the ocean within the territorial waters, or the ocean over the continental shelf, of Bangladesh; and
- (c) any property located in Bangladesh that has no rightful owner.

(2) Parliament may from time to time by law provide for the determination of the boundaries of the territory of Bangladesh and of the territorial waters and the continental shelf of Bangladesh.

144. The executive authority of the Republic shall extend to the acquisition, sale, transfer, mortgage and disposal of property, the carrying on of any trade or business and the making of any contract.

Executive authority in relation to property, trade, etc.

145. (1) All contracts and deeds made in exercise of the executive authority of the Republic shall be expressed to be made by the President, and shall be executed on behalf of the President by such person and in such manner as he may direct or authorise.

Contracts and deeds.

(2) Where a contract or deed is made or executed in exercise of the executive authority of the Republic, neither the President nor any other person making or executing the contract or deed in exercise of that authority shall be personally liable in respect thereof, but this article shall not prejudice the right of any person to take proceedings against the Government.

146. The Government of Bangladesh may sue or be sued by the name of Bangladesh.

Suits in name of Bangladesh.

147. (1) The remuneration, privileges and other terms and conditions of service of a person holding or acting in any office to which this article applies shall Remuneration, etc., of certain officers.

be determined by or under Act of Parliament, but until they are so determined—

- (a) they shall be those (if any) appertaining to the person holding or, as the case may be, acting in the office in question immediately before the commencement of this Constitution; or
- (b) if the preceding sub-clause is not applicable, they shall be determined by order made by the President.

(2) The remuneration, privileges and other terms and conditions of service of a person holding or acting in any office to which this article applies shall not be varied to the disadvantage of any such person during his term of office.

(3) No person appointed to or acting in any office to which this article applies shall hold any office, post or position of profit or emolument or take any part whatsoever in the management or conduct of any company, association or body having profit or gain as its object:

Provided that such person shall not for the purposes of this clause be deemed to hold any such office, post or position by reason only that he holds or is acting in the office first abovementioned.

(4) This article applies to the offices of—

- (a) President;
- (b) Prime Minister;
- (c) Speaker or Deputy Speaker;
- (d) Minister, Minister of State or Deputy Minister;
- (e) Judge of the Supreme Court;
- (f) Comptroller and Auditor-General;
- (g) Election Commissioner;
- (h) Member of a public service commission.

Oaths of office.

148. (1) A person elected or appointed to any office mentioned in the Third Schedule shall before entering upon the office make and subscribe an oath or affirmation (in this article referred to as "an oath") in accordance with that Schedule.

(2) Where under this Constitution an oath is required to be administered by a specified person and for any reason it is impracticable for the oath to be made before that person, it may be administered by such other person and at such place as may be designated by that person.

(3) Where under this Constitution a person is required to make an oath before he enters upon an office he shall be deemed to have entered upon the office immediately after he makes the oath.

149. Subject to the provisions of this Constitution all existing laws shall continue to have effect but may be amended or repealed by law made under this Constitution.

Saving for existing laws.

150. The transitional and temporary provisions set out in the Fourth Schedule shall have effect notwithstanding any other provisions of this Constitution.

Transitional and temporary provisions.

151. The following President's orders are hereby repealed—

SECOND SCHEDULE

[Article 48]

Election of President

1. The Chief Election Commissioner (in this Schedule referred to as "the Commissioner") shall hold and conduct any election to the office of President, and shall be the returning officer for such election.

2. The Commissioner shall appoint a presiding officer to preside at the meeting of the members of Parliament held pursuant to the provisions of this Schedule.

3. The Commissioner shall by public notification fix the time and place for delivering nomination papers, holding a scrutiny, making withdrawals, and (if necessary) holding a poll.

4. At any time before noon on the day fixed for depositing nomination papers any member of Parliament may nominate for election as President a person qualified for such election, by delivering to the returning officer a nomination paper signed by himself as proposer and by another member of Parliament as seconder, together with a statement signed by the person nominated that he consents to the nomination:

Provided that no person shall sign, whether as proposer or as seconder, more than one nomination paper at any one election.

5. A scrutiny of nomination papers shall be held by the Commissioner at the time and place fixed by him, and if after a scrutiny only one person remains validly nominated, the Commissioner shall declare that person elected, but if more than one person remains validly nominated he shall announce, by public notification, the names of the persons validly nominated (in this Schedule referred to as the candidates).

6. A candidate may withdraw his candidature at any time before noon on the day fixed for this purpose by delivering a notice in writing under his hand to the presiding officer, and a candidate who has so withdrawn shall not be allowed to cancel such notice.

7. If all but one of the candidates have withdrawn, that one shall be declared by the Commissioner to be elected.

8. If there is no withdrawal or if, after withdrawals have taken place, two or more candidates remain validly nominated, the Commissioner shall announce by public notification the names of the candidates and their proposers and seconders, and shall proceed to hold a poll by secret ballot in accordance with the provisions of the succeeding paragraphs.

9. If, before the close of the poll, a candidate who has been validly nominated dies and a report of his death is received by the presiding officer, the presiding officer, if he is satisfied that the candidate has died, shall countermand the poll and report the facts to the Commissioner, and all proceedings with reference to the election shall be commenced anew.

10. A poll shall be taken at a meeting of members of Parliament and the presiding officer shall conduct the poll with the assistance of such officers as he may, with the approval of the Commissioner, appoint.

11. A ballot paper, bearing the names of the candidates, shall be issued to every member of Parliament who presents himself for voting at the meeting of Parliament (hereinafter referred to as a person voting), and he shall exercise his vote personally by marking the paper with a cross against the name of the candidate for whom he wishes to vote.

12. A ballot paper shall be invalid if—

- (a) there is upon it any name, word or mark, other than the official number, by which the person voting may be identified; or
- (b) it does not contain the initials of the presiding officer; or
- (c) it does not contain a cross; or
- (d) a cross is placed against the names of two or more candidates; or

- (e) there is any uncertainty as to the identity of the candidate against whose name the cross is placed.

13. After the close of the poll the presiding officer shall, in the presence of such of the candidates or their authorised representatives as may desire to be present, open and empty the ballot boxes, count in the manner prescribed by law under article 124 the number of votes recorded for each candidate on the valid ballot papers, and communicate the number of the votes so recorded to the Commissioner.

14. If there are only two candidates the candidate who has obtained the larger number of votes shall be declared by the Commissioner to be elected.

15. If there are three or more candidates and one of those candidates has obtained a larger number of votes than the aggregate number of votes obtained by the remaining candidates, he shall be declared by the Commissioner to be elected.

16. If there are three or more candidates and the last preceding paragraph does not apply, a further poll shall be held in accordance with the preceding provisions of this Schedule, at which the candidate who obtained the smallest number of votes at the previous poll shall be excluded.

17. The three last preceding paragraphs shall apply in relation to the further poll and any subsequent poll which may be necessary under the provisions of those paragraphs.

18. Where at any poll any two or more candidates obtain an equal number of votes, then—

- (a) if there are only two candidates for election, or
- (b) if one of the candidates who obtained equal number of votes is required to be excluded from a further poll under paragraph 16 of this Schedule;

the selection of the candidate to be elected or, as the case may be, excluded, shall be made by the drawing of lots.

19. When, after any poll, the counting of the votes has been completed and the result of the voting determined, the Commissioner shall forthwith announce the result to those present, and shall forthwith cause it to be declared by public notification.

20. The Commissioner may by public notification, with the approval of the President, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Schedule.

[Article 150]

Transitional and Temporary Provisions

Dissolution of Constituent Assembly.

1. Upon the commencement of this Constitution, the Constituent Assembly, having discharged its responsibility of framing a Constitution for the Republic, shall stand dissolved.

First elections.

2. (1) The first general election of members of Parliament shall be held as soon as possible after the commencement of this Constitution and for this purpose the electoral rolls prepared under the Bangladesh Electoral Rolls Order 1972 (P. O. No. 104 of 1972) shall be deemed to be the electoral rolls prepared in accordance with article 119.

(2) For the purpose of the first general election of members of Parliament, the delimitation of constituencies made for the purpose of elections to constitute the erstwhile Provincial Assembly, and published in 1970, shall be deemed to be made under article 119, and the Election Commission shall, after incorporating such changes, as it may consider necessary, in the nomenclature of any constituency or any subdivision or thana included therein, publish, by public notification, the list of such constituencies:

Provided that provision may be made by law to give effect to the provisions relating to seats for women members referred to in clause (3) of article 65.

Provisions for maintaining continuity and interim arrangements.

3. (1) All laws made or purported to have been made in the period between the 26th day of March 1971 and the commencement of this Constitution, all powers exercised and all things done during that period, under authority derived or purported to have been derived from the Proclamation of Independence or any law, are hereby ratified and confirmed and are declared to have been duly made, exercised and done according to law.

(2) Until the day upon which Parliament first meets pursuant to the provisions of this Constitution, the executive and legislative powers of the Republic (including the power of the President, on the advice of the Prime Minister, to legislate by order) shall, notwithstanding the repeal of the Provisional Constitution of Bangladesh Order 1972, be exercised in all respects in the manner in which, immediately before the commencement of this Constitution, they have been exercised.

(3) Any provision of this Constitution enabling or requiring Parliament to legislate shall, until the day upon which Parliament first meets as aforesaid, be construed as enabling the President to legislate by order, and any order made under this paragraph shall have effect as if the provisions thereof had been enacted by Parliament.

4. (1) The person holding office as President of Bangladesh immediately before the commencement of this Constitution shall hold office as President, as if elected to that office under this Constitution, until a person elected as President under article 48 enters upon office:

President.

Provided that the holding of office under this paragraph shall not be taken into account for the purposes of clause (2) of article 50.

(2) The persons holding office as Speaker and Deputy Speaker of the Constituent Assembly immediately before the commencement of this Constitution shall, notwithstanding that Parliament has not yet been constituted, be deemed to hold office respectively as Speaker and Deputy Speaker until an election to each of those offices is made under clause (1) of article 74.

5. The person holding office as Prime Minister, immediately before the date of the commencement of this Constitution shall, until his successor appointed under article 56 after the first general election held under this Constitution enters upon office, hold office as Prime Minister as if appointed to that office under this Constitution, and the persons holding offices as Ministers immediately before that date shall continue to hold office as Ministers until the Prime Minister otherwise

Prime Minister and
other Ministers.

directs, and nothing in article 56 shall prevent the appointment of other Ministers on the advice of the Prime Minister.

Judiciary.

6. (1) The person holding office as Chief Justice immediately before the date of the commencement of this Constitution and every person who then held office as judge of the High Court constituted by the Provisional Constitution of Bangladesh Order 1972, shall as from that date hold office as if appointed under article 95 as Chief Justice or, as the case may be, as judge.

(2) The persons (other than the Chief Justice) holding office as judges pursuant to sub-paragraph (1) of this paragraph shall at the commencement of this Constitution be deemed to have been appointed to the High Court Division, and appointments to the Appellate Division shall be made in accordance with article 94.

(3) All legal proceedings pending in the High Court immediately before the commencement of this Constitution (other than those referred to in sub-paragraph (4) of this paragraph) shall be transferred to, and be deemed to be pending before the High Court Division for determination, and any judgment or order of the High Court delivered or made before the commencement of this Constitution shall have the same force and effect as if it had been delivered or made by the High Court Division.

(4) All legal proceedings pending before the Appellate Division of the High Court immediately before the commencement of this Constitution shall be transferred to the Appellate Division for determination and any judgment or order of the former division delivered or made before the commencement of this Constitution shall have the same force and effect as if it had been delivered or made by the Appellate Division.

(5) Subject to the provisions of this Constitution and of any other law—

(a) all original, appellate and other jurisdiction which was vested in the High Court constituted by the Provisional Constitution of Bangladesh Order 1972 (other than jurisdiction vested in the Appellate Division of that Court) shall from the commencement of this Constitution, vest in and be exercised by the High Court Division;

- (b) all civil, criminal and revenue courts and tribunals exercising jurisdiction and functions immediately before the commencement of this Constitution shall continue to exercise their respective jurisdictions and functions, and all persons holding office in such courts and tribunals shall continue to hold their respective offices.

(6) The provisions of Chapter II of Part VI (which relate to subordinate courts) shall be implemented as soon as is practicable, and until such implementation the matters provided for in that Chapter shall (subject to any other provision made by law) be regulated in the manner in which they were regulated immediately before the commencement of this Constitution.

(7) Nothing in this paragraph shall affect the operation of any existing law relating to the abatement of proceedings.

7. An appeal to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court shall lie, notwithstanding any limitation as to time, against any judgment, decree, order or sentence delivered, issued or pronounced since the 1st day of March 1971 by any High Court (but excluding the Appellate Division constituted by the High Court of Bangladesh (Amendment) Order (P.O. No. 91 of 1972)) functioning in the territory of Bangladesh:

Interim rights of appeal.

Provided that article 103 shall apply in respect of any such appeal as it applies in respect of appeals from the High Court Division;

Provided further that no appeal under this article shall be lodged after the expiration of the period of ninety days from the commencement of this Constitution.

8. (1) The Election Commission existing immediately before the date of commencement of this Constitution, shall, as from that date, be deemed to be the Election Commission established by this Constitution.

Election Commission.

(2) The person holding office as Chief Election Commissioner, and every person holding office as Election Commissioner, immediately before the date of the commencement of this Constitution, shall, as from that date, hold office as if appointed to such office under this Constitution.

Public service commission.

9. (1) The public service commissions existing immediately before the date of the commencement of this Constitution shall as from that date be deemed to be public service commissions established under this Constitution.

(2) Every person holding office as chairman or other member of a public service commission immediately before the date of the commencement of this Constitution shall as from that date hold office as if appointed to that office under this Constitution.

Public service.

10. (1) Subject to this Constitution and to any other law—

(a) any person who immediately before the commencement of this Constitution was in the service of the Republic shall continue in that service on the same terms and conditions as were applicable to him immediately before such commencement;

(b) all authorities and all officers, judicial, executive and ministerial throughout Bangladesh exercising functions immediately before the commencement of this Constitution shall, as from such commencement, continue to exercise their respective functions.

(2) Nothing in sub-paragraph (1) of this paragraph shall—

(a) derogate from the continued operation of the Government of Bangladesh (Services) Order 1972 (P.O. No. 9 of 1972), or the Government of Bangladesh (Services Screening) Order 1972 (P.O. No. 67 of 1972); or

(b) prevent the making of any law varying or revoking the conditions of service (including remuneration, leave, pension rights and rights relating to disciplinary matters) of persons employed at any time before the commencement of this Constitution or of persons continuing in the service of the Republic under the provisions of this paragraph.

11. Any person who, under this Schedule, is continued in an office in respect of which a form of oath or affirmation is set out in the Third Schedule shall, as soon as practicable after the commencement of this Constitution, make and subscribe before the appropriate person an oath or affirmation in that form.

Oaths for continuance in office.

12. Until elections are held to constitute the local government bodies referred to in article 59, the administrative arrangements existing in the different administrative units of the Republic immediately before the commencement of this Constitution shall continue, subject to such changes as may be made by law.

Local government.

13. All taxes and fees imposed under any law in force in Bangladesh immediately before the commencement of this Constitution shall continue to be imposed but may be varied or abolished by law.

Taxation.

14. Unless Parliament otherwise resolves, the provisions of articles 87, 89, 90 and 91 of this Constitution shall not have effect in respect of the financial year current at the commencement of this Constitution, and expenditure defrayed during that year out of the Consolidated Fund or the Public Account of the Republic shall be deemed to have been validly incurred:

Interim financial arrangements.

Provided that the President shall, as soon as is practicable, cause a statement of all such expenditure, authenticated by his signature, to be laid before Parliament.

15. The powers of the Comptroller and Auditor-General under this Constitution shall apply in respect of all accounts relating to the financial year current at the commencement of this Constitution and to earlier years, and the reports of the Comptroller and Auditor-General relating to such accounts shall be submitted to the President who shall cause them to be laid before Parliament.

Audit of past accounts.

Property, assets,
rights, liabilities and obligations of the Government.

16. (1) All property, assets and rights which immediately before the commencement of this Constitution were vested in the Government of the People's Republic of Bangladesh or any person or authority on its behalf shall vest in the Republic.

(2) All liabilities and obligations of the Government of the Republic as they existed immediately before the commencement of this Constitution shall continue to be the liabilities and obligations of the Republic.

(3) No liability or obligation of any other government which at any time functioned in the territory of Bangladesh is or shall be a liability or obligation of the Republic unless it is expressly accepted by the Government of the Republic.

Adaptation of laws and removal of difficulties.

17. (1) For the purpose of bringing the provisions of any law in force in Bangladesh into conformity with this Constitution the President may, within the period of two years from the commencement of this Constitution, by order, amend or suspend the operation of such provisions and any order so made may have retrospective effect.

(2) The President may, for the purpose of removing any difficulties in relation to the transition from the provisional constitutional arrangements existing before the commencement of this Constitution to the arrangements under this Constitution, by order, direct that this Constitution shall, during such period as may be specified in the order, have effect subject to such adaptations, whether by way of modification, addition or omission, as he may deem necessary or expedient:

Provided that no such order shall be made after the first meeting of the Parliament constituted under this Constitution.

(3) Every order made under this paragraph shall have effect notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, shall be laid before Parliament, and may be amended or revoked by Act of Parliament.
